

How to Make Tissue Puffs

Material: Acid free tissue

1. Start off with a piece of acid free tissue	2. Start in the corner and scrunch the paper into the middle of the sheet

3. Work around the piece of tissue working the edges into the middle	4. Make sure all the tissue is scrunched into the middle on the bottom

5. The puff should be smooth on the top	6. Use as cushioning in the bottom of a box or to cushion an object in it's own case

1. Start off with a piece of acid free tissue	2. Start at one edge and fold the tissue concertina-style. Make sure the folds are not too flat

3. Do this folding until about half way down and then roll the rest of the tissue into a sausage	4. Tuck in the ends of the sausage to secure it

5. Use the sausages to support costume items	6. Or for supporting objects in boxes

- If bigger puffs or sausages are needed, use several pieces of tissue, or if for short term packing or storage use some bubble wrap in the middle of the puff or sausage.
